

2022 Scherer Lecture

Resurrectional Cruciformity: Paul's Missional Spirituality

Presenter: Michael J. Gorman

October 4 from 4 - 5:30 p.m.

RSVP at bit.ly/2022schererlecture

The lecture will explore the concept of “resurrectional cruciformity” — cross-shaped ministry infused with the power and presence of the risen Lord — as the shape of Paul’s own sense of mission. We will explore certain Pauline texts in which Paul narrates how he seeks both to embody this spirituality and to see it embodied in the communities to which he writes. We will then consider how this same spirituality is relevant for the contemporary mission of the church locally and globally.

Michael J. Gorman holds the Raymond E. Brown Chair in Biblical Studies and Theology at St. Mary’s Seminary and University in Baltimore, Maryland, where he has taught since 1991. He has also taught or lectured throughout the U.S. and in Canada, New Zealand, and Africa. The author or editor of nearly 20 books and scores of articles, Dr. Gorman has devoted special attention to theological and missional readings of the New Testament, especially the letters of Paul.

Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago

McCormick
Theological Seminary

Catholic
Theological
Union

For more information, contact:

Peter Vethanayagamony at pvethana@lstc.edu or Ken Sawyer at ksawyer@mccormick.edu